An Evening with Anita Diamant

Thursday, November 12 / 8:00 p.m. / Free
UCSB Campbell Hall

Anita Diamant’s first novel The Red Tent, based on the Biblical story of Dinah, won the 2001 Book Sense Book of the Year and became national bestseller, published in 25 countries and 20 languages. Her latest book, Day After Night, returns to the land of The Red Tent to tell stories of women who survived the Holocaust and await the future in a British internment camp. Set in Palestine in the 1940s, it is a novel about loss, hope and courage before the founding of the state of Israel. An award-winning journalist and the author of six nonfiction guides to contemporary Jewish life, Diamant will discuss her recent work. Courtesy of Borders, copies of her books will be available for purchase and signing at this event.
